REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION OF PATENT TERM INDICATED
ON FACE OF PATENT UNDER 37 C.F.R. § 1.705(d)

U.S. Patent No. 7,647,244 issued on January 12, 2010 from the above referenced application. The face of the patent indicates that the patent term adjustment is 517 days. Applicants hereby respectfully request reconsideration of the patent term adjustment. Specifically, Applicants believe that the total patent term adjustment should be a total of 767 days.

In support of this request, Applicants submit the following statement of facts pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 1.705(b).

(i) The adjustment under 37 C.F.R. § 1.702(a), for failure of the Office to take certain actions within specified time frames, is 761 days.

(ii) The reduction of patent term under 37 C.F.R. § 1.704(b), for Applicants' failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude prosecution of the application, is 244 days.

(iii) The correct patent term adjustment calculated under 37 C.F.R. § 1.702(b) is 250 days, due to the failure of the Office to issue a patent within three years after the date on which the application was filed, but not including any overlap with the period in (i) and excluding the period, if any, from the date a Request for Continued Examination ("RCE") was filed to the issue date. This application was filed on June 22, 2001 and issued on January 12, 2010. A patent should have issued by June 22, 2004, a delay of 2029 days.

The following periods included under (i) above overlap with the delay of 2029 days calculated here: 50 days of the period for failure to issue a first action within 14 months of filing the application (the period from the day after the date that is the 3 yr anniversary of filing, June 22, 2004, to the date the action was mailed, August 11, 2004).

An RCE was filed on April 19, 2005. The period from April 19, 2005 to the issue date, January 12, 2010 (1729 days), is excluded from the period calculated here.

Thus, the correct patent term adjustment calculated under 37 C.F.R. § 1.702(b) is 250 days (2029 - 50 - 1729 = 250 days).

The adjustment sought under 37 C.F.R. § 1.703(f) is the sum of the non-overlapping periods under § 1.702(a) (761 days) and § 1.702(b) (250 days), less the delays attributable to Applicants (244 days), or 767 days.

According to the Federal Circuit's ruling in Wyeth v. Kappos ("Kappos"), no overlap can occur between the § 1.702(a) and § 1.702(b) periods before the time that is 3 years after the filing date of the application in the United States ("the 3-year mark"). This is because the period of 37 C.F.R. § 1.702(b) does not begin until the 3-year mark. Applicants have used the sum of the non-overlapping periods of § 1.702(a) and § 1.702(b), in accordance with the meaning of "overlap" as defined by the by the Federal Circuit in Kappos, to calculate the patent term adjustment due for this application.

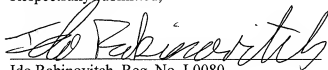

Applicants note that the above-identified application is not subject to a terminal disclaimer. There were no circumstances constituting a failure to engage in reasonable efforts to conclude processing or examination of the application as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.704, other than the circumstances of record.
